DWeb Principles - APC/SSB Focus Group

October 22, 2020

- CARE Principles - one version of moral authority
    - >> Actual application of “moral authority”
- What are the DWeb “tribes” or traditions?
- These check-ins are an example of how care is part of acknowledgement
- How do traditions shape community?

Cynthia

- Who shows up in this space, who has access?
- Who feels part of that community?
- What kinds of power do people have as designers?
    - Inclusive, horizontal, freedom to come and go as they please
- What would an embodiment of values look like?
- How does this reflect our dreams and desires?
- Our community’s values >> not writing projects off

Nico

- What are the features of the people/projects that we don’t want to be part of this?
    - The anti-features

Features of core tech

    - Not prescriptive
    - What are the things that communities have chosen?
- What are we gathering for?
- How do we create containers?
- Principles are grounding, it can define edges and create containers
- Relate to space + time
- Pillars?
- Principles assume a common understanding
- Deconstructing terminology → Bridging
- Intention, then deconstruction of goals and objectives
- Creating space for intimacy in this realm